

CITIZENS DEMAND STREET REPAIRS

Declare 18th Street Is Menace to Health of Southsiders

CITY IS IN QUANDARY

Faces Injunction Suit if Water Is Drained Into County

Properties owners living in buildings and businesses want the city to repair Eighteenth street between Harrison and Main, where it was partially destroyed in a severe storm during the recent flood. They demanded that action be taken immediately three weeks ago—they presented an injunction demand to the commission Tuesday morning. They also want a storm sewer of sufficient size to carry off the surplus water on the south and east side, but they did not mention it Tuesday because they are anxious to get an injunction suit filed first. They can drive their cars along from Baltimore to Miami, and so the stagnant water will be removed.

Mayor Evans Explains

Major T. D. Evans explained that the city has been confronted with an injunction suit every time it planned to repair the street. When repairs are made, the stagnant water that now stands in the street will be drained on private property and city officials understand the owners of that property expect to stop them. Hall of Eighteenth street is in the city and the other half is in the county. City Engineer C. E. Griggs would not say what property rights he has over the street, but he does know it is his duty to repair the street. There is a possibility that the city may undertake the repair project Saturday, the date property owners were told.

The property owners stated they had appealed to the health department for a quantity of creosin to pour over the stagnant water and to the city engineer, but the health auditor would not turn over enough money to the health department to take the disinfectant out of the freight office. Mrs. Beaman explained after the meeting that until the new budget is allowed, such bills cannot be paid.

PAVING BIDS CALLED FOR

Progress of Municipal Improvements Expect No Hindrance.

PAWNEE, July 26.—The first bid under Pawnee's new paving program have been called for August 5. This date was established in the paving resolution passed by the commission today, relating to districts 10, which includes the majority of the streets located west of the country club and also grandview hill. A similar resolution is in preparation for the new paving districts to be created west of the bird creek bridge.

The city commissioners will take up actively the matter of laying sidewalks to the high school and R. L. Plunkett, city manager, has been made responsible and ascertain the length of walk needed. It was also ordered that the labor forces at work on grading and the intake walls on the third creek dam be doubled in order to prepare for any long dry period.

MAY REDUCE THE TAX LEVY

Increased Valuation and Reduced Budget to Benefit Taxpayers.

SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.—That the change for a reduction of the city tax levy from 6 to 4 mills is possible, W. B. Jones, commissioner of accounting and finance, stated today. An increase of 20 per cent in the valuation of city property within the last year and the possibility of a cut in the expense budget has put the city in a position to do this.

With the tax reduction the city will still collect a revenue of more than $45,000 for all resources, which is more than enough to meet all obligations, it was shown. The city is in good financial condition, ended the past fiscal year in good shape and considerable improvement has been made in several of the city departments. The city has been running at a maximum mill levy for the past year.

OLD MINE SHOWS GOOD

Once Wrecked by Cyclone, Has Been Revived by Losses.

HOCKERVILLE, July 26.—The old Redeagle mine at Sunnyside, which was once a good producer but was idle for many years after the plant was wrecked by a cyclone, is apparently destined to again become a prolific source of wealth.

For some time past four miners, Harry McMillen, J. W. McMillen, Bert Sharp and Tom Price, have been working the old diggings, and, according to reports, they made a little money yesterday and took out three tons of ore today and Friday. These men comprise the S. & H. Mining company and have had the mine leased only a few weeks.

Leased $25 Per Day.

MIAMI, July 26.—The recent tragic death of James T. Buckley at an advanced age in the city emphasizes the importance of having immediate compliance of the Frisco and O. & G. railroads with the ordinances recently passed requiring them to build suitable track crossings. They are to forfeit $25 per day for all further delay.

GRAIN CAR SHORTAGE

Tulsa County Needs at Least 50 Cars to Handle Crop. Elevators in Districts Are Full.

Approximately half a hundred cars are needed within the next two weeks to move Tulsa county's grain crop, D. B. Rees, manager of the Tulsa County Co-operative association, estimates. The shortage is a very real and serious problem that is making life difficult for both farmers and grain men just now.

The New Orleans embargo complicates the problem, Rees says. The manager of the association points out the fact that the shortage is not peculiar to Tulsa county, but to this part of the state, or to this state, but is general over the southwest. Instead, most of the grain shortage attributed to the fact that more grain is being shipped to the north than is available pending their unloading at shipping points of more southern states, he says. The situation in this country will make it possible to move the grain in time to relieve congestion in the elevators.

Elevators are not too crowded to permit keeping the grain in storage, though, and the grain is well stored and warm, Rees said, and thus has not been possible this year, as many of the elevators are full so that it has been impossible for them to store for all grain handled.

In their petition they charge that the city marshal, G. A. Willis, is threatening to arrest and keep the men who are trying to move the grain.

Reverend Anderson Will Go "Back to Farm" on Month's Vacation.

Do you believe that your wife mother entitles a debt of gratitude for her baptism to you? Rev. W. L. Nichols, pastor of the First Baptist church, has received a letter from a member of his congregation, a woman, who writes: "My husband has selected his new name and will be King Wessel Wieschaway, while I am to be known as the Polish 'Janke' to his name."

Rev. Anderson will leave the United States next week. He will preach at the First Baptist church at St. Joe, Mo., for two Sundays during August. After his vacation he will return to his post. He will also visit his son, Rev. H. O. Anderson, in charge of the farm.
